Description: The Fall Voice Early Career SLP Pre-Conference is intended for speech-language pathologists with 0-5 years of experience treating voice and upper airway disorders in their practice. This pre-conference will be focused on the “magic” behind clinical skill and career development - beyond what you can find in a textbook! The first half of the day will focus on clinical skills, including foundational evidence and practical utilization of voice and upper airway therapy techniques, theoretical and practical insights for laryngeal videostroboscopy, and the secrets of a successful interdisciplinary team. The second half of the day will delve into career development through panel discussions and first-hand accounts from colleagues.
